Sustainable Finance and Corporate Governance

Hosted by Swedish House of Finance

16 - 17 October

Note: Due to the uncertainty of the current circumstances, this event will take place online, unless otherwise advised.

About the Event:

This event is co-sponsored by the Swedish House of Finance (SHoF) at Stockholm School of Economics, the European Corporate Governance Institute (ECGI) and the European Corporate Governance Research Foundation (ECGRF).

The conference will follow the 2020 ECGI Annual Lecture and associated meetings which will be held on October 15. The programme for 15 October, which is open to the public, will include a lecture by Nobel Laureate Prof. Oliver Hart (Harvard University and ECGI). See separate programme and registration details available on the ECGI website.

This conference brings together leading academics with participants from industry and government. The first day of the conference features keynote presentations and panel discussions, primarily targeted at a non-academic audience. The second conference day consists of presentations of current research.
